

Smile and Wink Game

Smile at your child, wink at him/her and encourage your child to try to copy you. When he/she can do this, change the order—wink first and then smile. You can make it even more complicated, by smiling and winking two times. It's a fun game that will make you laugh.

Brainy Background Powered by Mind in the Making

Playing this game helps your child learn to pay attention to what you are doing, remember the rules (first you smile, then wink or first you wink and then you smile), and copy what you are doing. These are important skills for school and life.